Klaus's *hit list

It won't mean much to most non-Czech readers, but the mere mention of "truth and love" immediately brings Václav Havel to the mind of any Czech with a brain. It dates back to his 1989 speech about truth and love prevailing over lies and hate, but it was expanded by the Klaus crowd to mean any bleeding heart who fawns on Havel (or whom Havel fawns on). For the past two weeks, a list of 200 "truth-and-loveniks" who are always game to sign a petition against anything Klausian has been making the rounds. Some people were angered to be included on it, others were angered not to be, but the question everyone had was whether it was sanctioned by the Professor himself. We finally got a partial answer on Saturday. Klaus told LN that Adam B. Bartoš's blog about perpetual petitioners was "brilliant." It will likely go down in history as the closest thing we ever get to a Klaus *hit list.

Udání Tykače, Bobely a Pudila na ČEZ a EPH bylo Evropskou komisí smeteno ze stolu

08. 11. 2010 – 14:43

Evropská komise dle agentury Bloomberg ukončila veškeré šetření společností ČEZ a Energetický a průmyslový holding. Web motejlek.com podobný závěr předpokládal. Podnět k prověření zadala především skupina Czech Coal, kterou vlastní Pavel Tykač, Vasil Bobela a Petr Pudil. Majitelé mosteckého uhlí žalovali, protože neunesli poměrně potupnou prohru v souboji o Elektrárny Opatovice. Případ bruselských úředníků v kancelářích ČEZ a EPH proběhl loni v listopadu.
