

A daily e-mail bulletin of Czech wit & wisdom. For your free subscription, write to subscribe@fsfinalword.com

The perils of being Martin

Martin Barták, a former defense minister, is going to be charged with seeking a bribe in a Tatra truck deal. Martin Kvietik of Slavia Capital is suspected of taking a kick-back for selling Škoda Plžěn to Appian. Martin Roman was presumably on both sides of that deal too and is seeing his world collapse around him. Martin Říman had to get out of the way as Roman fell upward at ČEZ. Martin Kocourek had to leave as industry minister after his nest egg was exposed. His replacement, Martin Kuba, is now under the magnifying glass. Martin Dvořák's head is on the block at DP Praha. Martin Knetig's sticky fingers brought down Env. Minister Pavel Drobil. Martin Boro-vka of Eurovia is feeling the wrath of the VV construction mob. Martin Pecina's name keeps coming up when analyzing the secret to Andrej Babiš's success. There's no deep meaning here, but it does seem suddenly to be very dangerous to be named Martin.

Know Prague?
Know it better...
prague.inyourpocket.com

inyourpocket
ESSENTIAL CITY GUIDES