Show us the audits, Mr. Babiš

Andrej Babiš declared that his people wanted to review all the contracts in Olomouc but that the other parties made a fool of ANO by cooking up a coalition deal without it in six minutes. We've heard a version of this broken record over and over again. ANO vows in the campaign to get to the bottom of suspicious contracts but then fails to deliver after the elections. Babiš criticized Martin Roman's reign at ČEZ but still hasn't produced any smoking gun. Nor do we know who profited from suspicious deals at ČSA and Prague Airport. And what about all those off-spec road jobs that were never approved by ŘSD but have cost the state billions? It's understandable that municipal politicians "who know each other a long time" (to use Babiš's words) would want to shun the new kids on the block, but the question is whether it's necessary. ANO is all bark and no bite when it comes to cleansing the government of corrupt practices.
