

A daily e-mail bulletin of Czech wit & wisdom. For your free subscription, write to subscribe@fsfinalword.com

Dominique, Christine and Andrej

Andrej Babiš has decided to combine lithium with OKD to attack ČSSD in the final days of the campaign, and now ČSSD a.s. must decide whether to hit back by having Babiš arrested in the Stork's Nest matter. Predicting Babiš's fate is a fool's game, but two examples from France can serve as starting points. Dominique Strauss-Kahn became a household name the world over in May 2011 after being arrested in New York City on sexual-assault charges. Although he was the managing director of the International Monetary Fund, he was made to take the perp walk and was totally humiliated. All charges were later dropped, but he was out of a job. His successor, Christine Lagarde, was found guilty last year - guilty! - of negligence for her role in a $403m arbitration ruling in favor of businessman Bernard Tapie. Not only did she keep her job, but the IMF board voiced its support for her. Can ČSSD a.s. really be so sure that Andrej is another Dominique?

Read this later today in Czech

MAN DISCONNECTED?

MOTIVATING THE MILLENNIAL GENERATION

THURSDAY 19 OCTOBER / 5:30 PM - 8:00 PM

Prague College, Polská 10, Praha 2

Prague College students and IBF members: FREE / Guests: 200 Kč

MUDr Martin Stransky
Director, Yale University-Charles University
Neuroscience Exchange Program

Dave Gannon, MA
Associate Head of the School of Business,
Prague College

Prague College

